Editorial

Are Nurses Prepared to Work in Systems Focused on Quality and Safety?

Gwen Sherwood

Corresponding author: G. Sherwood
E-mail: gwen.sherwood@unc.edu

Gwen Sherwood  PhD RN FAAN
Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill School of Nursing, Carrington Hall, CB #7460 Chapel Hill, NC27599-7460, USA.

Author Background:
Professor Gwen Sherwood is the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at an historic university in the USA, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is well published, an active researcher, has many areas of expertise, including quality and safety in health care and nursing. She is currently a co-investigator on a large project: the Quality and Safety Education for Nurses Project. Professor Sherwood is a global leader in nursing, being the Vice-President, Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society for Nursing; and among many of her roles, she is a member of the Global Nursing Advisory Group of UNC School of Nursing, working internationally. She is therefore an expert to write in our Journal on this topic.